PREPARING FOR REFERENDUM PROHIBITION

PROHIBITION
There is to be another vote on Prohibition in Alberta. The date is not yet settled, but it may be in the near future. This is the result of the legislature in formally requesting the Dominion government to conduct a referendum in this province on the question of the importation of liquor into the province, according to the Canada Temperance Act as amended by the Federal parliament at the session preceding the present one.

The date is to be settled by the Dominion government. The province must issue the proclamation setting forth the day for such referendum within 3 months of the receipt of the request of the province. There have been some suggestions to bring it on in the early summer. Serious consideration is also being given to a proposal to have the vote on this matter taken in several, and perhaps in all, of the provinces of Canada on the same date, as there is every probability that other provinces contemplate similar referendums. Saskatchewan, in fact, already presented its request before Alberta; Manitoba is likely to act very soon; while proposals to the same effect are now before the governments of Ontario, British Columbia, and Nova Scotia, with the prospect that all the others will follow very soon.

In these provinces active preparations are being made for the campaign. In Alberta a central referendum campaign committee has been appointed, which is now working with the preliminary plans for a thorough organization of the whole province and the financing of the movement. The prohibitionists fully recognize the necessity of an efficient, conducted campaign, and although they appear to have the fullest confidence in the result are determined to take no chances.

BUD IS REAL BUD.
Bud Simmerman brought in a carload of horses from Edmonton on Saturday last and has returned for a car of cattle with the preliminary plans for a thorough organization of the whole province and the financing of the movement.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to the special Easter programme next Sunday in Grace Methodist church, at 2:45 p.m. Good music, recitations and singing. There will also be given two interesting items in the shape of an Easter exercise by the "Willie Work" class and "Her Easter Choice" by the members of the "O.T.T." class. Come and bring someone else with you.

A town that never does anything in a public way is on the high road to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. The men that knock the place are making the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time to give publicity to his town is helping to dig the grave. OLAR-BU LADIES COMING AGAIN

Wainwright dancers have a main been fortunate in booking another return date of the popular Olar-Bu Ladies orchestra who will give another of their jazz dances in the Elite theatre on Wednesday, April 14th under the management of R. S. Shogren. These ladies are well known to patrons of the dance here, and they have won further commendation at Biggar, Langham, Reddick, Unity, Vegreville, and many other places. Mr. Shogren promises some new dance features on this visit. Supper will be provided free.

GILT EDGE GOSSIP

The U.F.W.A. will hold their next regular meeting at the home of Mrs. T. O'Reilly on Wednesday next April 7th. Important business is on the agenda and all members are asked to make an effort to be present.

E. Denocourt, who has been spending the winter in the Washington and California territory, has returned home to find that King Winter is still very much in possession of the atmosphere in this district.

A large number of our local talent last week visited at the Mayfield literary club and rendered some select numbers on a well-received programme.

Bob Harris has again left us for a few days. He returned to Lloydminster to look after his interests at this point.

At the Orange Hall, a large attendance thoroughly enjoyed the successful dance which was held under the auspices of the local lodge of the order. Tom O'Reilly and Jack Veitch supplied the music, and Joe Denocourt made a dandy floor manager.

A. Maclellan makes a dandy travelling salesman, as was well proved by his business secured throughout the district taking orders for his splendid brook Orpingtons.

The young sports of this district have called off their dance for an indefinite period.

The next regular meeting of the U.F.A., when arrangements have been made for special speakers to discuss the political situation, is to be held on April 13th. A full house is to be looked for.

A Sale of Home Cooking and Garden Tea will be held in Small Bros. store next Saturday, April 3rd, from 3 to 6 p.m. The proceeds are in aid of the Grace church Sunday school piano fund.

There's nothing to it! Of course, the reader knows this—we have declared it times immemorial. Still some folks are hard to convince. Two weeks ago a man walked into one of our hardware stores and asked for a reel of barbed wire.

On being asked the price of $2 apiece, he remarked that $3.75 would purchase it from the famous Eaton house.

"Alright," said Mr. Hardwareman, "go ahead. Here's your wire, but the stamp, send there for it."

Mr. Would-be-purchaser accordingly took the proffered stationery—in which, by the way, everything had been stamped. He ordered, enclosed his money and was walking out, when he turned and said—

"Say, when that wire comes will you get the drayman to put it in your warehouse? I don't want to lose it; wire's a little scarce just now."

"Oh, sure," says Mr. H.W.M. "We'll hold it till you drop in!"

The sequel—
Last week Mr. W.B.P. was in off the farm and on being asked about his wire admitted the receipt of a very nice letter. O.K., he had word alright! He was told that wire was very short, and prices had advanced overnight, and the market was unsettled, and they were sorry, etc., etc., but if Mr. W.B.P. sent along another $2.00 they would possibly be able to ship him a spool of wire in two or three weeks!

He was then informed that the price of wire was still the same here, but without any further argument he ordered twenty (not one) spools, and it looks like the mail-order angels (or wireless locusts, or such things) will weep and wail an awful lot before they send out another order to Mr. W.B.P.

As we have said before—there's nothing to it! Deal at home; see what your money is purchasing for you; boost your home town and you'll save in the long run. Figure it out!

Captain Hudson Upholds Integrity of Wainwright Officials

Much Comment During Debate in the Provincial House Over Anonymous Letter to Temperance Forces Alleging Discrepancies Here—No Answer Forthcoming to Challenge of Our Local Member

In the debate on the Liquor Act in the provincial parliament, which engaged the attention of that august body two or three days during last week, Geo. L. Hudson, the member for this constituency, very strongly denounced anonymous letters written in general and in particular the one who was alleged to have written to the temperance forces of the province regarding supposed flagrant abuses of this particular Act and law and order in general.

He was the first speaker of the afternoon session on the subject, and he strongly defended his home town against aspersions cast upon it in a letter quoted by Mrs. McKinney to the effect that liquor was being sold freely in Wainwright and that gambling was prevalent.

He denounced the writer of the communication for not having made complaint to the local authorities if such was the case, and he declared that the conditions alleged were true, praising the law-abiding spirit of the people of this town and the efficiency of the town officials.

He declared that it was these kind of charges that were bringing the temperance people into dispute.

Incidentally, Capt. Hudson declared that in his own government, notwithstanding the difficulties of enforcing the Liquor Act, was in many cases making honest efforts to enforce it. He said that there was no denying but under the present system the illicit manufacture of liquor was growing, that such a reputable body of men as the physicians of this town were being placed in an unenviable position.

The only conclusion that could be drawn was that if the present system was unacceptable to the people, they should be given an opportunity to obtain good liquor, and that all the profits of its sale should go to the province. He believed that whatever the majority decided upon then be ready to carry out the mandate.

Mr. Hudson also said that while he did not question the sincerity of Mr. McKinney's quoting from the letter read by her attacking his home town of Wainwright, he did not think that the writer of it could be called by the name of a citizen for making the charges in such a manner. He said they were an insult to everyone in the town—especially the officials. He stated that there were two physicians in Wainwright—one of many years residence and one who was a more recent arrival, and both of these gentlemen enjoy the highest and most enviable reputation for uprightness and integrity. These men were injured by these charges as also were the druggists of the town who were mentioned, the greatest credit and respectability of the town, and they were against me in the last election, too, both of them," added Capt. Hudson amid laughter.

Mr. Hudson said that he was glad to pay for a public-spirited, conscientious official, and said that for the secretary-treasurer of the town he had nothing but the highest honor and respect, though this latter official had also been opposed to him in his election. The official it was possible, therefore, of the people of Wainwright, and if the writer of the letter knew of any such incidents as he alleged it was his duty as a citizen to complain to these officials and to the council. Yet in all the past year only one complaint had been received, and it turned up in the form of an anonymous letter.

Capt. Hudson said he knew the reluctance Mrs. McKinney would have to give him the name of her informant, but if she felt it was possible, he would like to have that name.

Mrs. McKinney made no reply to this.

Mrs. B. N. Fraser left this week for a short visit with relatives in Winnipeg.

Next Sunday is Easter Sunday, and the people of this town are looking forward to a Dominion holiday.

G. Steele who was spending a few days in Edmonton, returned on Monday last.

Among those taking in the big horse show in Edmonton this week are S. B. and Mrs. Bowerman.

Miss Ada Coffey, who has been spending a short visit in the city with friends returned on Monday last.

J. Woodward, of Waskinaw Alta., was staying in town over the week end as the guest of Mrs. W. Huntington.

W. S. and Mrs. Clark are in the city this week and while here Billy will seek advice re his son's trouble.

Mr. H. J. Pawling returned on Thursday last from his recent visit to Edmonton. We hear that Fred is about the same.

Fred Masterson left on Sunday's train bound for St. Croix Falls, Wisconsin, where he expects to stay for the next six months.

PRAIRIE MONARCH HEADS SELL WELL

At a sale conducted in Montreal, hides and heads of buffalo from our park were under the hammer, and although the prices were disappointing in regard to the hides, these ranging from $10 to $25, the mounted heads certainly claimed a great deal of attention and also proved to be "posited" tickets. Edward M. Spear, the big New York naturalist, paid no less a sum than $1,025 for a truly magnificent specimen having an spread of just over 60 inches and the average run of prices was from $400 to $650.

ANNUAL REPORT FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

The nineteenth annual report of the secretary of the Canadian association for the prevention of tuberculosis tells of a wide-spread effort throughout the Dominion on the part of provincial and municipal health authorities in the educational campaign.

The report indicates that the capacity of the institutional accommodation for the tuberculosis is 3,500 beds, but it also points out that the increase in the number of patients is one of the most serious features of the tuberculosis situation.

CANADA SHOULD BUY SERVICEABLE CRAFT

The report of Viscount Jellicoe on Canada's navy needs should serve one good purpose at least, since it provides reassurance for those silly people who take alarm or pretend to do so whenever an Imperial officer visits us to give this country the benefit of his professional knowledge. In time it is modest, tactful and free of any attempt to hurrah Canadians into a vast aggressive naval programme. Jellicoe is speaking like a dispassionate efficiency expert who has been called in by a great corporation to make a survey and submit plans in connection with the proposed extension of a big business. If we wish to spend a given sum, we can get so much practical security of naval defence; if a greater sum can be allotted, we can get so much more for our money. It is left with parliament for the Canadian people—this constituting a sort of gigantic board of directors—to decide how far they wish to go in connection with the proposals.

It will be noted with interest, and as indicative of naval opinion formed by the late Great War, that the building of dreadnaughts does not enter into any of the four alternative plans submitted. What ever Jellicoe's opinions may be with regard to the future of the dreadnaughts as a factor in navies of major importance, he clearly thinks that Canada had better confine her expenditure to such types of smaller mobile craft as proved of service to the Allies in all parts of the world during the conflict. The old emergency programme which called for the building of three dreadnaughts by Canada may be regarded as now permanently scrapped. In the war, Britain's dreadnaughts were more of a threat than an active entity. The dreadnaught was like a great pugilist of destructive power who did not get into the ring. Clearly Jellicoe is of opinion that Canada can get more for her money—and co-operate more fully with the British navy in time of need—from the class of vessels which could drive commerce destroyers from our harbor and trade routes in the time of war. Even his most expensive plan, that which calls for $25,000,000 and would provide for two battle cruisers in addition to a great variety of smaller craft—light cruisers, destroyers, submarines and the like—would cost less by $10, 000,000 than the dreadnaught "emergency" plan. The report may be regarded as a vindication of the memory of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, since it accepts his theory of a purely defensive navy; although, of course, the details are worked out with much more scientific elaboration. It will be noted also that as an instrument for the defense of small nations Jellicoe regards the submarine as all important. It figures in all four of his plans and predominates in the cheapest one, a scheme merely of harbor defence calling for an expenditure of just $5,000,000—four to Saturday Night.

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of the value of money and will know much work and self-denial represents.

PROPORTIONATE CATTLE RAISING

Our national stock of cattle today is, compared with population, exactly the same as it was twelve years ago. In simplest form, the number of cattle to inhabitants for three typical years was—1908, 1.12; 1911, .90; and 1919, 1.12. This, in another form, means that the increase in cattle year by year has only steadily kept pace with the domestic population, and has allowed no margin for the needs of an increased export trade.

Yet during those twelve the overseas markets have seen a tremendous expansion which might have been served by Canada, and all means of reaching those markets, transportation, shipping and marketing facilities have been greatly improved. According to the returns statistics, the number of cattle was 7,545,000 in 1908, when the population was estimated at 6,650,000, and in 1919, with a population slightly under the 9,000,000 mark the cattle total, including milch cows, was only 10,083,000.

Under the Game Act as amended at the present session of the legislature, prairie chicken shooting season will be open for two weeks only this year—from Oct. 15th to Nov. 1st.

Get Puncture Proof Service And Cut Tire Cost

BY MEANS of a new principle of tire construction, which involves the incorporation of our casing within a new factory-built Gates Half-Sole Tire, puncture proof service is unreservedly guaranteed.

And the cost is only half as much as ordinary tire of corresponding size.

Business men, as well as those who motor for pleasure, have been quick to appreciate the superior features of the Gates Principle, for this re-inforced double fabric—double cushion tire is now being used by over 500,000 car owners.

See us for further facts today.

MAYFIELD NEWS

MAYFIELD LITERARY CLUB

At the meeting of the club which was held on March 24th a large number of members turned out, and the question of forming an athletic club was fully discussed and finally decided upon. Quite a number of visitors were with us, also, and a pleasing programme of May they bring along still more friends; the more the merrier.

Some of the people of the district think the phone should be installed at the schoolhouse. We could then call our worthy president and learn the probable cause of his detention.

A. Billess, who has had a real busy time bagging up his "praties" says he is sorry that he now has no more to market. Too bad, Alf!

GREENSHIELDS ITEMS

The McDougall boys, of the Empire Garage have had a real busy winter overhauling quite a number of the cars belonging to this district.

Fred. Lindstrom, who has wintered something like 100 head of cattle east of town, has returned the "beasties" to the south of the Buffalo Park on account of the feed shortage. Fred says $95 per is a little too high for him to buy!

Gus Hedlund, a former resident of our district, has opened up in the restaurant business in Prince George, B.C. We wish him every success.

J. Birtles, who recently purchased a new threshing outfit has been trying it out, and says it works just dandy.

Although the roads are now in a terrible condition for travelling we are not grumbling as we realise that these conditions are a sure and natural harbinger of spring.

The Advance-Rumely Line for 1920

THE same features that for years have characterized the "Save-all-the-Grain" Rumely Ideal Separator will be maintained for 1920. One new size is added, however,—the 28 x 48.

This gives a lineup of five models for 1920, ranging from 22 x 36 up to 36 x 60. It offers a size from the small outfits for individual use to the big outfits that will meet the needs of the largest custom thresherman.

The superior characteristics of the Rumely Ideal are recognized everywhere.

The straw is kept constantly on the move in a steady even flow from cylinder to stacker, due to the exclusive Ideal design. No possible chance for bunching, clogging, winding or choking.

It is this sound fundamental principle upon which the Ideal is built that is responsible for its now famous large capacity, complete separation and thorough cleaning.

Among the exclusive features that have made the Ideal the foremost separator on the market are: patented traveling slatted chain rake and the largest grate surface of any separator built; size for size, the longest straw rack of any separator built; lifting fingers on straw rack instead of common shakers; seven feet of extra chaffer length in grain pan, on larger models—smaller sizes in proportion; one-piece frame construction; all adjustments, oil and grease cups on the outside.

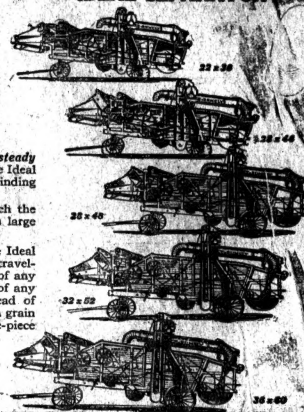

The five sizes of Ideals for 1920 are 22 x 36, 28 x 44, 28 x 48, 32 x 52 and 36 x 60.

Your careful investigation and thorough study of the Advance-Rumely line is invited.
